1. When members of the Yugoslav Legation in Buenos Aires were in Lima recently negotiating a commercial treaty,* Hinko Raspor, a member of the mission, was asked why the Yugoslav Legation in Argentina neglected the Yugoslav Consulate in Peru. Raspor replied that the Legation in Buenos Aires was having considerable difficulty in settling even routine matters with the Argentine government, and furthermore that the Legation was having "personnel difficulties." Raspor said, however, that he hoped the situation would improve in the near future and the Legation would be able to handle the affairs of the Lima consulate in a more efficient manner.
2. Raspor also stated that Dujkic Vojoslav,** former chief of the Legation's consular section, has been transferred to Montevideo. His functions in the Buenos Aires Legation have been taken over by Anton Kacjan, who has the rank of first secretary.
